Health and Beauty

Perhaps today's fast -living accounts for the tremendous increase in the number of ulcer sufferers in America today.

Modern research has definitely established a connection between our emotions and ulcer trouble. Sensible diet and moderation in our living habits are the best safeguards against ulcer trouble.

A deficiency in one of the B vitamins (B is known as the nerve vitamin) pantothenic acid, may be a factor in producing ulcers of the duodenum. The duodenum is the first section of the small intestine and a common place for an ulcer to begin.

From experiments on rats it has been found that adrenal cortical hormones produce gastric acidity but no ulcers, unless the rats lack the B vitamin.

All of this is not to say that if you eat foods high in vitamin B and take vitamin B complex pills you will not develop an ulcer. There is, as yet, not enough complete evidence to make this statement. Too many factors work together to make an ulcer patient, However, it would do no harm to choose foods high in the B vitamin in your daily diet.

Keep away from situations which create tensions for you. Get enough rest and sleep. The American high powered push for the dollar is taking a heavy toll in heart and ulcer patients—to name just two ailments.
